

Dear Sir/Madam:

In your capacity as an FCC employee you have a responsibility to protect the public airwaves. In the same way that a highway patrolman protects the public resource that is our system of roads and highways the FCC is entrusted with the role of protecting the public airwaves. As you know these airwaves are the property of the citizenry - you and I own them in common with the rest of America and it would seem unfair and illegal for an owner of television station to be able to use these airwaves to suit their own personal political agenda. Sinclair seems to be on the verge of abusing his position, of abusing the license that has been granted to him by the FCC in the name of the general public interest. It is your duty, it is the duty of the FCC to stand up for public interest and protect it when it is endangered. Thanks for your time,

Chris and Carol Camp
